

PEELERS

Peeling fruit is an operation similar to blanching. Often, the fruit is peeled by injecting steam as the product enters the system. Due to the wide variety of fruit that is processed, a range of flow rates are required.

A Mark 701/702 shines in this application with its high flow rates and good rangeability.